PROFILE

Front-end developer and designer with five years of experience. Designs interfaces in Figma and builds them in React, Next.js and TypeScript, with WCAG 2.1 AA accessibility and automated tests from the start. Most recently led a Harvard Library migration from Angular to Next.js that shipped in under eight weeks.

SELECTED WORK

Yale University Library: Quicksearch redesign

akfosterdev.com/work/yale-quicksearch

- Redesigned the record and request pages for the library's move to a new catalog system. Took them from wireframes and design options in Figma through stakeholder approval, then built them.
- Audited the whole app at widths from 320 to 1680 pixels and fixed the layout and WCAG 2 AA issues found.

HykuUP demo brands: Ellison, Harborview, Meridian

akfosterdev.com/work/hykuup

- Designed three brand identities for demo sites, each on a different theme: logos, favicons, color palettes, typography and site styling.

Harvard University Library: ACORN migration

akfosterdev.com/work/harvard-acorn

- Front-end lead moving the app from end-of-life Angular 14 to React 19 and Next.js 16, at full feature parity and in production in under eight weeks.
- Set up the app shell, routing, design tokens and shared component library the rest of the team built on.
- Led a WCAG 2.1 AA audit and fixed the findings. Built about 240 Playwright tests and a GitHub Actions check on every pull request.

EXPERIENCE

Notch8 | Software Engineer

Mar 2022 – Oct 2026

Consultancy building open-source repository and discovery software for universities and libraries.

- Had 14 pull requests merged into the open-source Hyku and Hyrax projects over a five-week period, fixing media playback, layout, navigation and font issues.
- Modernized Yale's front end: Bootstrap 4 to 5, a stylesheet overhaul and 123 templates converted from HAML to ERB.
- Started the team's code coverage tracking and raised key code from as low as 18% to near 100%.
- Used Claude Code for agentic development, with tests, CI checks and personal review of every change.

Presently Media | Freelance Web Designer and Developer

Apr 2017 – Mar 2022

- Designed and built websites, logos and branding for small businesses, including WooCommerce stores.

Drata | Software Engineer Intern

Feb – Mar 2021

- Built features for a SOC 2 compliance platform in React, NestJS and MySQL, including real-time updates with Pusher.
